ORDERS OF THE COURT

The Court considers that in setting this schedule the parties have made allowances for routine discovery delays, scheduling conflicts and the like. Accordingly, the Court will not view favorably motions to modify this schedule for reasons such as "discovery not complete" or "depositions need to be scheduled." Adjustments to this schedule will be made only upon exigent circumstances. This applies particularly to motions to reschedule the trial date.

The above Proposed Joint Scheduling Order having been reviewed, it is HEREBY ORDERED

1. That the proposed dates are accepted by the Court;
2. That the initial pretrial is hereby scheduled for _____ at _____;
3. That the pretrial is hereby scheduled for _____ at _____;
4. That the trial is hereby scheduled for _____ at _____.
